

We regret to inform you that the Recofloor Awards 2020 has been cancelled due to the Coronavirus (COVID-19) Pandemic. Polyflor, Altro and Recofloor all agree that holding the event would be a risk to public health and the health of everyone involved in the event. Although the event on March 25th at Twickenham is cancelled the awards are very much still going on.

We will send all of the winners their certificates and trophies in due course. The winners will be announced on Wednesday, March 25th, on our social media.

We would like to apologise once again to our members who have booked tickets and/or entered the awards, we hope you understand this difficult decision and we hope that you all stay healthy.
